Not illustrated. 1915 Excerpt: . . . has gone to Dayton, where he will manage a large drug store. He was for some time past a clerk in one of the stores of E. L. Pieck, of Covington, Ky. Four men and one woman, all colored, were arrested last Friday by Government Narcotic Inspectors Stier, Mescher and Meyer, in a house on McFarlan street. It is alleged that the prisoners had narcotics in their possession. Walter A. Roth has bought the store erf Fred J. Boss, at Main and Waverly avenues, Norwood. Mr. Roth was for several years a relief clerk. Charles Ehlers and Theodore D. Wetterstroem, secretary of the Ohio State Pharmaceutical Association, have been making an automobile tour through the city and suburbs, calling on druggists in the interest of the state association. They are collecting dues and interesting druggists in the propaganda plan evolved by the O. S. P. A. propaganda committee. The Peninsular Chemical Company, of Detroit, instituted a suit last week against Samuel Levinson, doing business as the Penslar Cigar Company, of this city, charging unfair business competition, and alleged infringement of trade-mark rights. The Peninsular Chemical Company states that it has for years been placing on the market a line of druggists supplies, medicines, and toilet articles, under the trade name of Penslar, and making them known to the trade and to the public as its special and distinctive products. The court is asked to issue an injunction restraining Levinson from the further use of the trade...
