Preparing Participants for Intergenerational Interaction: Training for Success (Hardback)

By Francis A. McGuire, Melissa Hawkins, Kenneth Backman

Taylor Francis Inc, United States, 1998. Hardback. Book Condition: New. 218 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book. Preparing Participants for Intergenerational Interaction: Training for Success examines established intergenerational programs and provides the training methods necessary for activity directors or practitioners to start a similar program. This book contains exercises that will help you train colleagues and volunteers for these specific programs and includes criteria for activity evaluations. Preparing Participants for Intergenerational Interaction will help you implement programs that enable older adults to build friendships, pass down their skills and knowledge to adolescents, and provide youths with positive role models. Discussing the factors that often limit the interaction of older adults with youths, this text stresses the importance of conveying information and history to younger generations. You will learn why the exchange between different generations is crucial to society and to the improvement of the community in which you live. Preparing Participants for Intergenerational Interaction provides you with proven suggestions and methods that will make your program successful, including: * examining Howe-To Industries, a program that teaches entrepreneurial skills to youths through older adults * focusing on activities between older adults and youths that address aging sensitivity and...
